

FORTNIGHTLY FIVE

STUDENT & STAFF RECOMMENDATIONS

READ

"Dig" by AS King:

Disturbing, thought provoking, perplexing and raw. Set in contemporary Pennsylvania, AS King has constructed a story that is revealed chapter by chapter through the experiences of five young adults. Each individual is unique, their circumstances different to the others, yet each character is connected. Interestingly, they don't know this.

WATCH

Formula 1 Drive to Survive (Netflix documentary):

I've never been a big fan of F1. I shocked myself when in the space of a week, I had watched seasons 1 & 2 of this show. It is one of, if not the best series I've ever watched and one of the most well put together documentaries. It's funny, it's entertaining and most importantly its raw and true.

LISTEN

And The Writer Is....with Ross Golan (Podcast available on iTunes):

Ross Golan is a song writer who has worked with artists such as Celine Dion, Ariana Grande, One Direction and Selena Gomez. In this podcast, Golan interviews fellow song writers to learn more about who they are, what inspires them and their song writing process. This will keep you entertained during quarantine regardless of your musical ability!

LEARN

David Attenborough's "Seven World's, One Planet" (9 Now/BBC):

Everyone should be watching Attenborough's 'Seven Worlds, One Planet'. Each episode, one for each continent, is produced to open your eyes to the wonders of the world that are sometimes hidden in plain sight. Develop an appreciation for the diverse flora and fauna across the continents and the uniqueness of each species.

LAUGH

Brooklyn Nine Nine (SBS on Demand/Netflix):

Since Brooklyn Nine-Nine premiered in 2013, it has provided a weekly dose of lighthearted fun. Season 7 has just landed on SBS Demand and follows the characters through another year at the 99th precinct including a Halloween Heist, an adventure with the Pontiac Bandit and an appearance from New York's favourite furry friend Cheddar.
